A tasty victory: European Championship 2024 meets Hügli Snack Seasonings!

We strived to create seasonings that taste and trigger positive emotions. Pulling from our experience we believe we have achieved some great tasting flavours.

Amanda Mann, Flavourist UK

The way we see it, both football and food have the remarkable ability to bring people together, transcending barriers of language, culture, and background. They foster a sense of belonging and unity, creating shared memories and moments of celebration. These feelings can even be intensified with the current trend of comfort food. Whether gathered around a table or a television screen, whether cheering for a favourite team or savouring a beloved dish, both football and comfort food have the power to unite and evoke emotions and nostalgia.

Playing tribute to this year's European Championship our product developers have created eight new snack seasonings combining this big event with familiar flavours of the participating European countries. Just like the teams competing in the championship, our seasonings come alive with a variety of flavours, each bringing its own flair and personality to the table.
